

Understanding Your Challenges

Customized Logistics Solutions for the Legal Industry

The firm turned to Axis Global Logistics for help and Axis addressed this need by arranging a late night pick-up that allowed the firm critical additional hours to work on cases.

A prominent Washington, D.C. law firm was shipping a pouch to its London office at the end of each business day but found it could no longer deal with the inflexible pick-up deadline imposed by a large parcel company. The firm turned to Axis Global Logistics for help and Axis addressed this need by arranging a late night pick-up that allowed the firm critical additional hours to work on cases. At the same time Axis shaved a full day off these D.C. to London shipments, providing next day service with a 5pm pick-up.

This law practice found out what other firms had already discovered – that Axis' years of experience serving law firms and thorough understanding of the challenges you face mean that it is able to design and implement a customized single source logistics solution that offers you control and visibility and meets your specific needs.
